IMMUNITY FROM FROST.

The Northwest, and more particularly, the Qu'Appelle district, has good cause to rejoice in having escaped frost so far, and if indications go for anything, we are pretty well safe. Our neighbors to the east of us have, however, not been so fortunate, as from reports thus far received Manitoba, and as far west as Grenfell, was visited with a rather severe frost on Monday night last, six degrees of frost being reported as experienced. While we should be thankful that we have so far escaped, we should also experience a feeling of regret at the misfortune of our neighbors, as many of us know full well what a visitation of this sort means. It is to be hoped that the damage will not be so great as reported, as it is probable that the season being much earlier in Manitoba than with us a major portion of the grain will have been harvested. Still, there must be a very considerable portion uncut, and the loss may have fallen upon those who are least able to bear it. While our farmers are so far secure, they will not be perfectly secure until their grain is cut and stacked, and just as soon as it is fit it should be cut. Harvesting is now in full swing, and with a continuance of present weather everything will be safe.

In another column will be seen a letter from Commissioner Herchmer, N.W.M.P., warning the settlers that, owing to the reduction in the strength of the force he will be unable to supply the usual number of men for fire protection duty. This we consider one of the principal reasons for retaining the force at its full strength, as heretofore the police have done excellent duty as you don't have to swear off says the St. Louis Journal of Agriculture in an editorial about No-To-Bac, the famous tobacco habit cure. "We know of many cases cured by No-To-Bac, one, a prominent St. Louis architect, smoked and chewed for twenty years; two boxes cured him so that even the smell of tobacco makes him sick."

fire guardians.

In a thinly populated country such as the Northwest, and with so much vacant land, government and otherwise, we contend that the farmer should be protected against fire. Goodness knows they have enough to put up with. The advocacy of Mr. Mullen and others of that ilk goes to show what the poor Northwest farmer might expect were they at the helm in Ottawa.

As officially announced in the Northwest Territories Gazette of Aug. 15th, the Northwest Legislative Assembly will meet at Regina on Thursday, the 29th day of August, for the dispatch of business, and to take into consideration the state and welfare of the Territories, and therein do as may seem necessary.

In Search of Water.

An Indian Head subscriber to the Northwest Farmer writes: I should be much obliged if you could find space in your valuable paper to give me any indications you know of for finding water. I have a quarter section of slightly rolling prairie, with just the head of a coulee on the northwest corner of it, in the best and heaviest section of land in this district. I am going to bore for water, but should like to have some idea where to start, and not go at it hap-hazard. Do you believe in the willow and ant hill theories? Please give me any hints you can.

Water finding is a very difficult business. It is undimable that men have, by the use of the willow, found water in very unlikely places. One man who failed in a likely place, went uphill to where badgers had burrows, and there found water. If the coulee the subscriber refers to was started by a run of surface water, it would be no likelier than any other place, but there may be hidden water in the bottom. If there is a water witch of good repute within reach it may be well to give him a trial and report results. A small clump of willows has often been found an index to underground water. The strata in which water flows are very mysterious and uncertain, but the above mentioned ways have all been helpful in finding water.

A Montana Murder.

The Benton River Press of a recent date reports the killing at Dupuyer Creek, Mont., of a Frenchman named Geo. Legacy. The murder was done by a bartender named Tenny, who held an old grudge against Legacy, and who shot him through the body as he was walking up to the bar to call for a drink. The murderer tried to escape but was captured by the officers. It is thought that the murdered man is the same Legacy who at one time was a resident of Macleod.

A Blaze at Keewatin.

Keewatin, Aug. 13.—At 1:40 this morning fire broke out in the rear end of Frank Orr's dwelling, opposite the C.P.R. station here, and spread to Wm. McQuig's house, consuming both dwellings and everything belonging to Orr, and nearly all of McQuig's furniture. Insurance on McQuig's furniture, $250, and on house, $600, in Eastern Assurance company, of Halifax. Insurance on Orr's house and furniture, unknown, but loss fully covered. Orr and family are visiting at Soo, Mich.

Officially Announced.

London, Aug. 19.—In the House of Lords this afternoon the secretary of state for war, the Marquis of Lansdowne, announced that Field Marshal Viscount Wolsey would succeed the Duke of Cambridge as commander-in-chief of the forces, Nov. 1. The proposed changes in powers and the duties of office were still under consideration.

There is no animal so fastidious as the horse, and that he requires the quality of his food to be the nicest is a well known fact. His sense of taste and smell is very acute, and imagination strong. Hence he rarely partakes of musty hay and grain.

Aid is being distributed to the survivors of the Sassoon outrages.

Great Britain is still enquiring into Hawaii's arbitrary arrest of British subjects.

NOTES BY THE WAY.

"There's a chief among ye takin' notes, An' faith he's a prout em."

It is astonishing what airs some people give themselves when they become prosperous; they forget they also had a beginning, and a mighty poor one at that, some of them. 'Tis with such people nature's nobility is conspicuous by its absence.

Mr. Pinder brought to town an exceptionally fine sample of red and black currants last week—so large indeed was the black variety that it was hard to realise that the fruit really was black currant, but such it undoubtedly was. Mr. Pinder tells me that four pounds of berries were gathered from a single bush.

There are persons who will believe any wonderful story about dogs; how will the following catch on? The Maryport and Carlisle railway has the reputation of being a very slow line. A farmer stepped into a market-day train with his dog, the presence of which was resented by a lady in the same compartment, and he was compelled to take his dog out. Instead of putting the animal in the guard's van he hitched it to the rear of the train; seeing this the guard arranged for full speed to be kept up to the end of the farmer's journey! On arriving at Cammersdale, the first stopping place, the guard was much surprised to find the dog calmly sitting on its haunches, apparently waiting for the train to start. He remonstrated with the driver, but seemed pleased on arriving at Dalston to find only a piece of string where the dog had been. Judge of the guard's surprise when he found, on stepping out at Carthwaite, the dog sitting on the platform, he having got wearied of the slow progress made by the train and so started off by himself.

We were very kindly promised a storm between the 17th and 23rd of the present month, but it has failed to put in an appearance which is very considerate on its part, and will doubtless be appreciated by all, especially the farmers.

Jack Frost and the grain are running a race, and the grain is ahead, don't you know. And so may it be at the finishing post.

That old Jack may not show a show. No, I had to take none of the prize.

That all strive to win, if they can, So old Jack Frost will for once take a rise.

After that he may do what he can.

Official Crop Report.

A crop report, based on information gathered up to Aug. 10, has been issued by the Manitoba department of agriculture. The report shows an average rainfall of 3.51 inches for June and 3.84 inches for July, with a heavy growth of all vegetation owing to much cool wet weather.

The estimated average yield per acre of the various crops for the province is as follows: Wheat 25.5 bushels, oats 43.3 bushels, barley 35.8 bushels, peas 25 bushels, flax 15 bushels, rye 22 bushels. The total wheat crop, based on this estimate of average yield, would amount to 23,136,915 bushels, oats 21,887,410 bushels, barley 4,307,310 bushels, flax 1,249,020 bushels. Harvesting is expected to be general about Aug. 20 all over the province. A few wheat fields were cut previous to Aug. 10th.

About 5,700 extra men were wanted to assist in the harvest at $25 to $30 per month, including board free.

The hay crop is reported to be rather light. Potatoes and roots very promising.

Missing Montreal bonds have been traced to Accountant McDonough.

Settlers Cautioned.

To the Editor of The Progress:

SIR—Owing to the large reduction in the appropriation for the Northwest Mounted Police, which not only necessitates a large reduction in strength, but also in the amount available for general expenses, it will be impossible during the ensuing season, when prairie fires are dangerous, to either place the same number of fire guardians in the field or to keep them out as late as in former years, and I shall be much obliged if you will bring this to the notice of the settlers and urge them to take at an early date, the little precautions necessary to save their stacks and premises. There should be two fire-breaks round each stack and premises and the intervals should be at least sixty feet, and advantage should be taken of the first calm day after the grass will ignite to burn between the breaks. If every settler will do this there will be very little danger from prairie fires, which owing to the great growth of grass this season are likely to be very destructive despite the efforts of the police, unless these ordinary precautions are taken.

L. W. HERCHMER,

Commissioner, N.W.M.P.

Regina, Aug. 19.

Needs Explanation.

To the Editor of The Progress:

SIR—I cannot claim renown as a newspaper correspondent nor yet as a critic, but it appears to me that the Lorlie correspondent is writing from hearsay and not from a true knowledge of facts.

The correspondent states that "the children of Lorlie public school are having a hard time of it just now; the majority of them are down with a very bad sore throat. The building in which the school is held is not suitable, it being a barn with one window open and that away aloft, which causes quite a draft when the door is open."

To a certain extent the correspondent is correct, but his statements are apt to be misleading. First, the majority of the children have had very sore throats and some had a few days from school, but the reason given is not correct. A sore throat and cough has been going through the colony, and not only the school children, but adults who have never been in Lorlie school have been ill with it. The window which is away aloft the rear of the school children, has not been opened since the school began, so I cannot see how an open door and a closed window could cause a draft.

The correspondent stated that the barn has "one window only." There is one window in the north end of the barn and another in the south. The schoolroom does not receive the full benefit of the southern window, but a partition dividing the barn and not reaching as high as the window cannot exclude all the light. No doubt the room used as a schoolroom is not as suitable as might be, yet it is the best the trustees could obtain under the circumstances. The public is well acquainted with the circumstances, as they have been aired by those concerned.

Lorlie Listings, Ahoy!

To the Editor of The Progress:

SIR—As I travel about the country a great deal, doing odd jobs for people, one of your subscribers handed me your paper and asked me what I thought of Lorlie Listings.

Well, I often pass that field of Bob's and for the life of me could not tell which was the most, barley or pigweed. The wheat is better; there are fewer weeds, but it reminds one of pine stumps—not many of them, but they cover a lot of ground—and I would like to see those maples, etc. The paper must have been in a sarees in mood.

Then Lorlie school seems to trouble your correspondent a lot. I expect he has not forgiven the trustees for starting it, and thus saving the district from disorganization. Well, when we get that 10 x 16 schoolhouse, that he spoke of about a month ago, that Senator Purley is going to build for us, there won't be any draft, as the score of children will have to be packed like "three in a bed" and teacher up the chimney.

He seems very much interested in the hay business. Has he been cutting some of Bob's sloughs again and got chased with a pitchfork, and so had not time to take it up?

And about those deer. Was it deer or deers that were

Local and General

—Thermometers now are in great demand.

—E. F. Hutchings, Winnipeg, was in town on Sunday.

—A large fire has been burning northwest of town, in the direction of Edgely.

—Mr. W. W. McMillan was in town on Saturday, sizing up the wheat situation.

—Mrs. James Rannerman, wife of a prominent Calgary citizen, died suddenly on the 18th inst.

—J. Love and wife, Grenfell, arrived in town on Monday morning, leaving for the Fort the same afternoon.

—D. G. Waggoner, Kingston, Ont., late crown timber agent at Battleford, was in town last Sunday and Monday.

—No trace has yet been found of the little Smith girl lost on the prairie near Battleford some weeks ago. Several parties are searching for her.

—Harvesting began on Monday last and is now in full swing; in fact, many in the Springbrook settlement had commenced the middle of last week.

—Never judge a man by appearance. The man in the patched pants may be the editor, and the man in the faultless suit may be a subscriber in arrears.

—An average of 30 to 35 bushels to the acre is generally conceded in the Qu'Appelle district, while many individual parties will reap on the right side of 40.

—Just take a peep at J. P. Beauchamp's fall goods. If you cannot be satisfied there, it is evident that you cannot be suited by anyone.

—The Rev. Hunter Boyd, Fort Qu'Appelle, will preach in the Presbyterian church Qu'Appelle, next Sunday, both morning and evening, Mr. Ferguson taking his place at the Fort.

—North Portal, on the Soo Line, Assa, has now been gazetted as an out port, and Mr. A. C. Paterson, who has been acting as temporary office since 1893, has been permanently appointed sub-collector at that point.

—There are always some things which you can serve a customer at a lower price or in better shape than your competitor can. Those are the things you want to keep before the public by advertising. —P. M. L. Ink.

—Judging from the number of grain men that have visited Qu'Appelle during the last week for the purpose of arranging for the purchase of grain during the coming season, we should say that the outlook was exceedingly bright.

—Money is scarce in Qu'Appelle but genius is not, as the exhibition in the window of Mr. W. Johnston, jeweller, testifies. Mr. Johnston has manufactured out of tin a minature house, flower garden and lawn, wood pile, buck saw and saw horse, pump and pail, but what catches the eye of the crowds who daily line the sidewalk opposite his premises, is the fountain in full play. There is no apparent reservoir and where the water comes from is the puzzle.

—Harvesting is in full swing in the Springbrook district. On Friday last, according to undisputed authority, Mr. F. Seymour had harvested fifty acres, Mr. Burns a considerably greater amount, Mr. Grigs had also completed the gathering in of fifty acres, many others having done the same.

—One will be able to judge of what the crop is like in the Qu'Appelle district from the fact that 26,000 pounds of binder twine have already been sold or ordered, with the probability that at least 15,000 pounds more can be easily disposed of. What have those east of us who have been so busy telling the harvest hands lately arrived, that there are no crops west of Indian Head, to say to this?

—In view of the possibility of a change in the way of expending public works money in the Territories, at the approaching session of the Northwest Assembly, the members have been notified to bring the assembly estimates of works which affect more than one township, such as main roads leading to markets and bridges. Miscellaneous works within a township will likely be done under statute labor and fire district ordinance.

—In the September number of the Delineator, which is called the autumn announcement number, the display of fashions for the coming season is exceptionally large, and the styles are handsome enough to suit the most exacting taste. The issue is also notable for the variety and quality of its reading matter. Mrs. Pryor's articles on the "Social Code" continue, and this month "The Debutante" is considered in a most interesting way; Amy Rayson, a famous graduate of Girton College, writes of a girl's life there and at Newman, the two best known English colleges for women; Edith M. Thomas, in connection with Dr. S. R. Elliott, talks of woman as a writer, and Mary Schenck Woolman practically treats of "Plain Needlework as an employment." Mrs. Sara Miller Kirby continues her valuable series on kindergarten work, and Harriet Keith Forbes gives further instruction in burnt decoration. The household department are well represented in the choosing and preparation of meats, seasonable cookery, the housekeeper, the preservation and renovation. Instruction and entertainment are provided in "Around the Tea Table," and some novel amusements and the newest books are reviewed. In knitting, netting, tatting and crocheting new designs are illustrated, with descriptions for making. Subscription price of the Delineator, $1 per year, or 15¢ per single copy. Address all communications to the Delineator Publishing Co., of Toronto, Ltd., 33 Richmond St. West, Toronto, Ont.

Directions to Correspondents.

1. Be brief and to the point. Life is short, and please remember we wish to give other correspondents a show.
2. Write plainly and only on one side of paper. This will prevent you (unintentionally) sending the compositor to the "devil."
3. As time is hard only use a one cent stamp; do not seal the envelope, but just turn in the flap.
4. When you are out of paper and envelopes write for more.
5. Write as often as you can—once a week anyway; mail so that we may receive copy not later than Monday night or Tuesday morning.
6. Send nothing but news. Ill-natured gossip cannot be admitted to the columns of the paper. If anything happens in your vicinity, such as a birth, marriage, death, accident, school or church event, arrival of visitors at your house or your neighbor's; in fact anything of local interest, send it to The Progress. If you are not accustomed to write for the press we will revise it. Connected with the office is a good job printing department and any orders you may be pleased to send in will receive prompt attention.

Law Regarding Newspapers.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscription, the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers or periodicals from the post office or removing or leaving them unopened for while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.
